Overview:

Patricia Hewitt, Chair of the UK India Business Council, a leading international Business Alliance member and an owner/manager – to provide a business picture on the ground – will set the scene and dispel any fear about doing business in India.

They will provide a political and economic overview and consider the challenges, opportunities, exploiting the Indian market, where and how to invest in the country.

The scale and pace at which India has transformed itself throughout the last two decades is astounding. Progress has been such that the country is standing on the threshold of joining the ranks of the world's middle income countries.

Our speakers may contradict each other – they may agree with each other – but the debate should be lively!

The success of India's success in the knowledge economy, high-value R&D and customer services in recent years is known the world over. India is one of world leaders in telecommunications through a highly skilled, educated workforce, with a strong work ethic.

After the success of the "China Dinner" in July, this flagship annual dinner continues the Chamber's highly popular Business International Programme for 2010. Our guest speakers will pinpoint world-wide business opportunities and impart useful nuggets that impact on the way you do business globally, with the aim of facilitating international trade relationships.

The evening will also provide you with networking time with your corporate business counterparts from across the region, plus the opportunity to put your business questions to the experts.

The setting is prestigious, steeped in history and where Shakespeare's play 'The Merry Wives of Windsor' was first performed in front of Queen Elizabeth I.
