

WORKPLACE HEALTH AND WELLBEING AWARD

Is the health and wellbeing of your employees embedded in your business culture?

This award will recognise the organisations that undertake activity that promotes and encourages the positive health and wellbeing of staff and also recognises the impact that this has on both employees and the wider business.

Judges will be looking for:

- Evidence that the health and wellbeing of your employees is embedded in your businesses culture
- The activities that your organisation undertakes to promote and encourage the positive health and wellbeing of your staff
- How you assess your employees' health and wellbeing needs
- The impact that your health and wellbeing initiatives have had on your employees and the wider business
