Sue has spent much of her career in working with and advising technology and specifically life science companies at all stages of their development on their financial and commercial strategies. She is a regular contributor and speaker at events for research and development companies and their stakeholders.

Sue is a Chartered Accountant and, prior to joining James Cowper Kreston, was the director of the technology team of an international top 10 firm of accountants.

Her passion for technology and innovation based businesses led her to develop a specialist and respected team of advisers to the technology and life science market at James Cowper Kreston. As Managing Partner of the firm Sue's strategic skills have been harnessed in a different direction to focus on the development of that firm to 250 people and five offices in the UK. Sue is chair of the Thames Valley's health and life sciences working group which is hosted by the Thames Valley Chamber of Commerce.
