DEVOLUTION, EVOLUTION,
REVOLUTION

Friday 26th September 2025

Liz Leffman has been Leader of Oxfordshire County Council since the County Council elections in May 2021.

Liz has represented Charlbury and the Wychwoods, a rural division in West Oxfordshire since 2017. In 2016, she was the Liberal Democrat candidate in the Witney by-election which followed the resignation of David Cameron as the local MP and was elected to West Oxfordshire District Council in 2012. She has been Chair of England's Economic Heartland since September 2023.

Since 1991, Liz has been running a business in Eastern Europe, managing clothing production for UK retailers. More recently, she has been a trustee of her local Citizens' Advice, a director of a local community owned solar farm, and director of a charity that is building supported living accommodation for people with early onset dementia.
