DEVOLUTION, EVOLUTION, REVOLUTION

Friday 26th September 2025

Chris Southworth is Secretary General of ICC UK and a prominent voice in international trade, sustainability, and policy. He co-founded the International Centre for Digital Trade and Innovation (iC4DTI) and co-chairs the Commonwealth Legal Reform and Digitalisation programme.

Chris is a member of several advisory boards, including the ICC World Council, ICC Digital Standards Initiative, and Queen Mary-UNIDROIT Institute. A leading expert in digital trade, he's authored key reports like the 2017 ICC Digital Trade Roadmap and 2024 UK Digital Trade Roadmap. He played a central role in the Electronic Trade Documents Act 2023 and the G7's 2021 digital trade commitment.

As a key adviser to UK government bodies, he supports trade digitalisation efforts. Previously, he held senior roles at the British Chambers of Commerce, UK Trade and Investment, and advised on national competitiveness and trade policy, including mid-size business export programmes and deregulation initiatives.
