Did you know?

We have our own in-house claims service and it's included with every insurance policy at no extra cost. Think of us as your personal claims assistant - here to step in and step up when you need us most.

We're chartered. But why should you care?

How does us being chartered actually benefit you? In a nutshell, it's a mark of trust. To become chartered, we commit to a set of standards that we're also measured against. Which means somebody outside our organisation is saying you can trust us. And even if you don't choose Macbeth, we'd always recommend looking for a Chartered Broker. Because we want you to have complete peace of mind.

“

“Macbeth is more like an advisor than a broker. It's incredibly reassuring to know that someone's on the end of the phone when we need them. Macbeth's service is highly personal and the team are genuinely invested in the success of our business; they help us reduce our risk and protect our reputation.”
